BEAUTIFYING VICTORIA

IN THEIR CONTRIBUTIONS TO THE debate on the budget yesterday, both Mr. Hayward and Mr. Beatty urged upon the government the desirability of early consideration of a comprehensive plan of improving the appearance of Victoria so that it shall more nearly conform to what a capital city should be.

This is by no means a matter of purely local importance. Victoria is the capital city of the province and there should be a general desire that it shall compare favorably in appearance with other capitals. This should not call for a heavy expenditure.

To enable this matter to be discussed intelligently, it is proposed that a commission be appointed, the members of which would act in an honorary capacity. On such a body, of course, the government and the city council would be represented, while other communities are not likely to object to a financial grant from the provincial treasury for its use.

On several occasions The Times has drawn attention to the state of the waterfront from the outer wharves eastward. All this area would lend itself admirably to a large improvement. There are a number of eyesores in the inner harbor. Other parts of the city are little better than blots upon the landscape.

A GREAT CHIEF JUSTICE

WILLIAM HOWARD TAFT, WHOSE funeral took place to-day, had the rare distinction of occupying the two highest offices in his country, first the presidency, and later the chief justiceship of the Supreme Court of the United States.

He was more successful as chief justice than he was as president. His was a judicial mind, direct and inflexible, which could not easily adapt itself to the demands and expedients of political life, and which was unmoved by the varying currents of public opinion.

Mr. Taft became president because the masterful Roosevelt, of whose cabinet he was a valued member and in whose personal regard he held a high place, had decreed that he should succeed him at the White House. At that time the Roosevelt word was law unto his party, and in the election of 1908 Mr. Taft had no trouble in gaining first the nomination and then the election.

Having raised his friend to the presidential seat, and after marking the new pilot's political course for him, Mr. Roosevelt went to Africa on a big-game hunting trip. When he returned he found that Mr. Taft had not stuck to the course that had been charted for him, that he had abandoned some of the celebrated Rooseveltian policies, particularly in regard to conservation of resources. Mightily angered, he jumped into the political ring, formed his Bull Moose party, became a third party candidate in the election of 1916, and made possible the election of Woodrow Wilson as president. Mr. Taft won only two states out of forty-eight.

Mr. Taft came out of his disastrous defeat smiling. It is probable he was glad to be out of party politics. He never regarded the presidency as the summit of his ambition, but when he was appointed chief justice of the Supreme Court some years later, there is no question that he had reached a goal to which he often must have looked, and for which he was eminently qualified by his great legal ability and fine judicial mind.

He was personally well known in Canada, for over many years it was his custom to spend his holidays at Murray Bay, in Quebec, where he made many Canadian acquaintances. Probably no other leading figure in the public and official life of the United States had so many personal contacts with Canada as he.

The United States Supreme Court is the arbiter, set up under the constitution of the republic, between the nation and the sovereign states. It holds the scales between the law-making institutions of the nation and the states, and in view of the fact that the constitution is an iron-clad instrument and difficult to amend, except under conditions of national emergency, the court's decisions are vested with an unusually great finality. Mr. Taft's wide experience in public affairs, his great knowledge of the law, and his sound judgment qualified him as one of the ablest chiefs of that high tribunal in the records of his country.

MAYOR ROLPH AND THE REDS

IF THE MAYORS OF MANY CITIES IN the United States are afraid to allow public demonstrations of Communists, the number apparently does not include veteran Mayor Rolph of San Francisco. The paraders in that city the other day were assisted by the police, shown to the city hall, where a platform had been erected for their use, and when it was all over his Worship, in the words of the inimitable Will Rogers, "thanked 'em for coming to see him, and a good time was had by all except the women, who were unable to get arrested."

Mayor Rolph obviously possesses a keen sense of humor. He smoothed the way for the would-be disturbers of the peace and apparently made them so comfortable, and gave them every facility for ridding themselves of all the steam they had been generating for days before, that they had not the nerve to demonstrate in the true "red" fashion.

It would not do in some United States cities to permit the extreme elements to run wild every time they felt they had a grievance against society. But San Francisco is unlike most of the cities of the neighboring republic, while Mayor Rolph has a personal popularity as an administrator that his more than twenty years as chief magistrate have not outworn.

Hyde Park, in London, of course has its reputation as a unique forum where all and sundry may "tell the world" about almost everything. The arm of the law is always "on hand" to protect them from whatever consequences may arise as a result of their fulminations. The policy there, as with Mayor Rolph in San Francisco, is to let Communist notions have the benefit of the fresh air.

THE FUTURE IN THE AIR

WITHIN THE NEXT QUARTER OF A century millions of dollars no doubt will be spent on new railway communication in various parts of the country. Only by this means will it be possible to bring vast virgin areas under cultivation and connect them with consuming markets. But in any consideration of new railway projects where settled communities are within a comparatively short distance of one another, aerial development naturally must be taken into consideration, both from the point of view of the passenger and that of merchandise.

Ten years ago there was a good deal of head shaking about aerial travel. Experts were undecided about the type of craft that could be pressed into commercial service and given a guarantee of reasonable safety combined with economic operation. While the question was being discussed, the problem partly solved itself by practical demonstrations on a commercial scale. The aerial liner of the heavier-than-air variety made its appearance, an unpretentious affair at first, but embodying in its essential purpose the requisites for ultimate success. Comparatively speaking, it was a quick triumph—it captured the imagination of the public much quicker than even the most optimistic expected. The novelty wore off almost imperceptibly. Regular lines soon were established in many parts of the world. Europe became in a very short time a network of aerial routes. Our neighbor on the south kept pace with these developments, and this country, with its much smaller population, has made substantial progress.

It may be some time before the railways will feel serious competition from aerial travel; but if the new locomotives which some of the railways of Great Britain have recently constructed with the utmost secrecy mean anything more than a natural desire to keep up to date, they convey the idea that only by increased speed will they be able to give an effective reply to the passenger air liner, since the engines in question are built for a speed of between seventy and eighty miles an hour.

We had an example in Canada last week of the important saving of time which now has been made possible in the carriage of mail between Calgary and eastern points. This business is only in its infancy; no doubt before another year is past there will be a complete air mail service from Halifax to Victoria. And when it is borne in mind that the largest air liners now in general operation on both sides of the Atlantic will accommodate twenty or more passengers, it will readily be understood that their capacity for the carrying of merchandise is very considerable indeed. The giant German flying boat, for instance, carried 169 persons, or a human freight weighing nearly twelve tons.

Vancouver Island is especially interested in all developments with regard to aerial travel. In the next quarter of a century communication between this city and the mainland by the airplane route may be as common as by steamship.

THE FRENCH ATTITUDE

IF M. BRIAND SHALL SPEAK FOR France at the next plenary session of the naval parity, a more international tone may be imparted to the general attitude which that country's spokesmen have adopted to date. True, he would not be able to speak as the leader of the government of which he is a member, but his record in behalf of peace in recent years suggests that an utterance from him would harmonize with the spirit of Locarno and the sentiments of the peace pact which he and Mr. Kellogg negotiated.

This is the frame of mind the conference appears to need at this juncture. For it already is obvious that there is an aspect Premier Tardieu should consider and by which he would profit. It is the extent to which French nationalism is influencing British-American policy. It is a fact, although many Frenchmen do not always believe it, that there does not exist any political understanding between Great Britain and the United States. Such an understanding has been politically and historically impossible. But it is also a fact that to the degree in which limitation and reduction of armaments is obstructed by other powers, to the degree in which a practicable basis of naval parity is undermined by other powers, the British and American peoples will tend to develop common purposes and to discover a community of ideals. French policy unquestionably already has done much to promote just this tendency in world politics.

The objective which Premier MacDonald and President Hoover sought to attain, however, was an agreement between the five participating powers to reduce naval armaments. This was what the English-speaking peoples the world over expected. But much of the discussion which so far has taken place has been directed almost as much towards adding to armaments as of reducing them.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

THE NEW NORTHWEST

The Montreal Gazette

In the Peace River country lying within the boundaries of British Columbia, 1,200 homesteads and pre-emptions were taken out last year, an increase of seventy per cent over 1928, while 16,000 acres of new land were brought under cultivation. Motor licenses doubled in number, 370, and revenue to the government increased sixty per cent. The New North is growing famously.

AFRAID OF KINGDOM

The Toronto Mail and Empire

In some quarters objection used to be taken to the use of the phrase "British Empire." Now it appears that even the substitution of "Commonwealth" for "Empire" does not go far enough, and the suggestion is made that this should be known as the Kingdom of Canada. The next step might be to make it the Republic of Canada, and, eventually, the Soviet of Canada.

A THOUGHT

They are vanity, the work of error: in the time of their visitation, they shall perish.—Jeremiah 17 18. When men will not be reasoned out of a vanity, they must be ridiculed out of it.—L'Estrange.

Across the Bay

We spend a peaceful and thoughtful afternoon—with admirable speeches from inarticulate private members—and an evening which starts blameworthy enough, but ends in many merry outbursts.

By H. B. W.

THE HOUSE put its working clothes on and went to work in the earnest on Monday, with the laudable ambition of finishing the job in two weeks. This, of course, is a consumption devoted to be wished but not easy to consummate. Thus, at the end of a whole afternoon and a whole evening of talk, Monday found it still sunk without trace in the depths of the budget debate. We had seven speeches in the day and many more to come, for the back-benchers, inarticulate and choking with ideas since the opening of the session, are getting their first chance to relieve their feelings and are taking full advantage of it.

THE BACK BENCHERS' confessions of faith are not lively. They produce no purple passages or emotional crises. Often they are delivered to a half-empty House and to rows of other members hidden behind newspapers for refuge. But in the long run it is quite possible that the back benchers' ideas will have a greater effect on the history of British Columbia than those world-shaking utterances which come from the rostrum of the politics on Olympus, that is from the treasury benches.

ON MONDAY, for example, we had six speeches from six quiet, modest men who up to this time had listened in respectful silence while the thunderbolts of politics were heaved back and forth across the House by those whom they consider their betters. In these six speeches unobtrusively delivered and full of humility, there was more meat, more constructive ideas than in a dozen polished political harangues. They were suggestions for the most part ahead of their time, not within immediate reach of practical politics, but one of these days some of them will be the actual issues of public life. As you look back over a decade of legislation in these halls you will find that most of the ideas which later blossomed forth in glory as great epoch-making policies were advocated years before by the back benches.

MR. BEATTY, of Victoria, who is a bachelor but old enough to know better, opened the day. He is one of those good-natured, smiling fellows who introduces the atmosphere of the service club luncheon into the House, with all its enthusiasm and perfect confidence that the problems of civilization can be solved by good fellow-ship and common sense. Mr. Beatty is an optimist. He believes in the Government, in the Conservative Party, in Victoria, and to some extent at least in Mr. Beatty. He makes a good, sound speech in which he is not afraid to voice his own ideas, though they evidently have not been caucused. Thus he came out flatly in favor of the total abolition of succession duties as a means of attracting wealthy men to the province, these, as far as he could see, being the only immigrants needed at the moment.

MR. HILL came Mr. Rutledge of Alberni, a picturesque figure and an original thinker. Mr. Rutledge represents the working people, believes in them, defends them, pleads for them. With swinging arms and shaking forefinger he told the House that while he was talking politics and complicated financial calculations which he and many others did not pretend to understand, he was devoted to the problem of the country had been mentioned. The greatest problem, he said, was the protection of the consumer. For everyone else, for milk producers, fruit men, lumbermen and industrialists of all sorts, said Mr. Rutledge, the House legislated and legislated until it was exhausted, until, indeed, it was time all entire session was devoted to repealing all the provincial statutes and starting afresh. But for the consumer there was no law and not a speech.

FOR THE CONSUMER, Mr. Rutledge raised a passionate and impressive voice, and the more he raised it the more emphatic he became, until this milk-mannered, agreeable gentleman was thumping his desk and his forefinger and his head was bent over in stress of his feelings. The House listened intently because it knew that what Mr. Rutledge said was perfectly true, and also that it was spoken with absolute sincerity. Burnaby had found Mr. Rutledge a voice which the pomp and clatter of the House cannot subdue.

DR. GILLIS, of Yale, the third speaker, also is one of those quiet men who listen a lot and speak seldom. When Dr. Gillis does speak, in a conversational tone, he invariably has something to say. For the practical side of politics, and for the ramifications of finance, he has no talent. He even expressed the pious but unattainable hope that some day some government would bring down a budget which all ordinary men could understand. Meanwhile he offered some very sound advice on public health on which, as a doctor with a large practice, he is an authority.

WHEN HE gets on to public health and the matters of his own profession, Dr. Gillis can be exceedingly informative and interesting and is so perfectly fair and non-partisan about it that the Government ministers to him. Eventually most of his excellent ideas probably will be carried out. It is men like Dr. Gillis with no axe to grind, no ambition to precipitate a political crisis, who are the sheet anchor of our public life. It is a fine thing for British Columbia that such men are willing to give their time to the country's service.

IN THE EVENING we had three more private members and a usually-quiet cabinet minister, and things began to warm up a bit. Those four speakers unhappily chose the wrong time of day for their efforts. When they rose this column already was almost filled. A paragraph or two must suffice them, poor fellows. Mr. Hayward, of Victoria, spoke thoughtfully and well, and showed that he has improved immensely in his speaking ability since he entered the House six years ago. Colonel Fred Lister, of Creston, made his usual blunt, soldierly, forthright speech on those things which interest him and his people of the great interior. Everyone likes the colonel as a gallant soldier, and honest politician, and a courageous member. He was followed by Mr. Macpherson of Cranbrook, and when Mr. Uphill of Fernie noticed that he was going to speak on the same evening as Mr. Hayward, the other undertaker of this assembly, he wanted to know whether a funeral was to be held. Mr. Macpherson replied that he planned an autopsy, and so it turned out to be, with the Government playing the most important role. Mr. Macpherson is another of the private members who thinks much and talks little.

IT WAS Minister of Lands Burden who started the fun of the evening. All this session Mr. Burden has been taking a deal of abuse without saying anything. By this time he has begun to resent it and the House has found that when he is roused, Mr. Burden is quite a different man. As he warmed up to his subject he was constantly interrupted. At length the Conservatives grew so annoyed with interruptions that they howled down the inter-rup-ters. Then Minister of Finance Shelly sought to interrupt on his own account to say that Mr. Pattullo had interrupted a certain number of times, but the actual number was entirely drowned by further interruptions. Mr. Shelly telegraphed to the press gallery with his fingers that Mr. Pattullo's interruptions had numbered that evening exactly thirty-five, which the opposition considered as exaggerated as some of the budget statements.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TO-DAY

The Victoria Daily Times, March 11, 1905

St. Petersburg (Associated Press), March 11.—3.30 p.m. It is reported in military circles this evening that Gen. Kuropatkin has lost 300 guns and about 60,000 prisoners, besides about the same number killed or wounded.

Weather forecast—Victoria and vicinity: Northerly and easterly winds, unsettled and colder, with showers.

The Government to-day ran up against another difficulty on the Songhai Indian Reserve Bill. W. G. Cameron again moved his amendment on report. The Government trusted to the amendment being declared out of order but they were unable to quote precedents which would satisfy the Speaker in ruling according to their wishes.

The British ship Cedarbank, 2,649 tons, Captain Bachdior, with general cargo consigned to Victoria and Vancouver, arrived in the Royal Roads last evening.

Captain S. Balcom of this city has brought a claim for about $68,000 against the South American Republic of Uruguay, for the illegal arrest and detention of his sealing schooner, the Agnes D. Donohue of Halifax, N.S. The Donohue was one of half a dozen vessels which Captain Balcom operated off the South American coast during the last few years.

The thirteenth annual meeting of the Canadian Club held in Hamilton, Ontario, on March 1. The chief guest was Senator William Templeman.

With the approach of summer, general interest in increase throughout British Columbia increases. The league, it is expected, will include Vancouver, New Westminster, Victoria and Seattle. Although probably there will be some difference in opinion as to the advisability of admitting the Sound club, the majority seem to favor the proposal.

Dr. Ernest Hall, J. Gobell and M. P. Gordon were among the arrivals from the Mainland last evening by the new steamer Princess Victoria.

The city fathers are still working on the estimates for the year, but the end is in sight. It is expected that the finishing touches will be administered on Tuesday evening, and then the formal statement will be ready for submission to the council.

New Comedy By Gordon-McLeod Players Proves Extremely Funny

The irrepressible drollery of Roland Gillet in the part of Victor Staunton, an artist, and the dry humor of Ernest Bodkin and Gordon McLeod, combined with the emotional ability of Miss Lillian Christine, make the latest vehicle of the Gordon-McLeod Players at the Royal Theatre a great success. "Meet the Wife" is the title of this brilliant three-act comedy written by Lynn Starling. It deals with the social climbing and matchmaking activities of Gertrude Lennox in a little town not far from New York. An enthusiastic audience yesterday evening greeted the opening performance which again proved the versatility of this talented company. Each member of the cast fits perfectly into the roles he or she is assigned.

Miss Christine has the role of Gertrude Lennox, whose dominating mind keeps the various figures in the play scurrying about at her will. Harvey Lennox, her husband, is taken by Ernest Bodkin with his usual ability. In the part of the artist whose "background" so greatly attracts him to Mrs. Lennox as a suitor for her daughter's hand, Roland Gillet finds ample opportunity for a display of his knack of "saying the wrong thing" and acting like a stuffed dummy.

The junior roles of the daughter and her fiancé, a New York reporter, are taken respectively by Margaret St. Barbe West and Claude Bailey. Miss St. Barbe West lends her usual charm and daintiness to the part which involves her becoming betrothed to the "idiot" Staunton, but when Philip Lord, a famous writer, taken by Gordon McLeod, steps on to the scene, everything turns out all right. Irene, a part capably played by the talented Leone Weber, chooses the woman her husband shall marry when she herself dies. Esther Todd is splendid in the role of "the other woman," Emily Ladew. Emily is terribly affronted by Irene's proposition and avenges herself by "ramping" Irene's husband. The extraordinary consequences form a plot of a most diverting nature.

MOVIE CONTRACT

Al St. John, one of the famous funsters on the lists of the old Keystone company and featured in Harry King's "She Goes to War" now at the Columbia Theatre, owes his screen eminence to having been a bicycle rider and juggler in his childhood. During the delivery of a message on duty, marked by Al's balancing a tray of food on his head, Al's bicycling feat attracted the attention of a theatrical producer. The result was a long term vaudeville contract.

HOBART BOSWORTH SCORES TRIUMPH IN PICTURE OF SEA

When Hobart Bosworth made the first feature length sea drama in 1913, it proved to be the most successful picture of its time. Bosworth has since appeared in a number of thrilling sea dramas and each time has worn the same makeup and costume. Every one of the productions became an outstanding success and Bosworth came to regard the make-up as essential to the prosperity of the group. In Columbia's all-talking drama, "Hurricane," Bosworth has discarded part of his trade-mark uniform, but still adheres to the cap, shoes and belt which have carried him to the highest pinnacle of stardom. "Hurricane" is being shown at the Playhouse Theatre.

WIFE CHOOSES HER SUCCESSOR IN VARIETY PLAY

The Toby Leitch Players scored a brilliant hit at the Variety Theatre last night with their production of the clever three-act comedy, "The Other Woman."

Raymond Toby Leitch gives an excellent performance in the role of John Belden, genial uncle of Irene Randolph, whose obsession of approaching death he cures by ingenious strategy. Irene, a part capably played by the talented Leone Weber, chooses the woman her husband shall marry when she herself dies. Esther Todd is splendid in the role of "the other woman," Emily Ladew. Emily is terribly affronted by Irene's proposition and avenges herself by "ramping" Irene's husband. The extraordinary consequences form a plot of a most diverting nature.

ATMOSPHERE OF ORIENT MAINTAINED IN CAPITOL FILM

For the first time in the history of the motion picture, the Chinese language as spoken by real Chinese, authentic Chinese music as played by Oriental entertainers, and all the myriad, colorful sound-effects of picturesque China are brought to the screen in "Shanghai Lady," Universal's all-talking production of the famous stage success by John Galtor, which opened yesterday at the Capitol Theatre for a three-day run. "Shanghai Lady," starring beautiful and exotic Mary Nolan, supported by James Murray, is in reality the Orient brought to the Occident through the medium of the talking photoplay. It is a birdseye view of the dives and dens of the Far East, of its kaleidoscopic Oriental pageantry, of its mystery and charm.

Salt Spring

Mahlon Hall, Ganges, was killed on Friday evening, when Lieut.-Col. W. W. Foster gave an address on "The Ascent of Mount Logan." Major F. C. Turner, D.S.O., president of the Island branch of the Executive Men's Association, occupied the chair. Col. Foster held his audience enthralled by his account of the difficulties encountered on the long and perilous ascent of the highest Canadian mountain peak, preparation for which took two years. Following the address, Col. Foster showed beautifully colored moving pictures of ice fields, glaciers and mountain ranges over which the expedition had traveled. A dance concluded the evening.

YOUR BABY and MINE

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

DISCONTINUE USE OF LAXATIVES—EXIT CONSTIPATION

For many years we have been contending that babies would seldom be really constipated if mothers ceased fussing about daily bowel movements. There are definitely constipated babies, of course, whose condition is due to an inadequate diet, a wrongly balanced diet, starvation or whatnot. These conditions need correction before the bowels will act without aid, unless they have become so used to artificial "crutches" that they cannot act alone.

We enjoyed the following letter, and were amused by it, too. Despite our constant encouragement to mothers not to worry about the number or time of baby's bowel actions, but to be concerned only when the movement itself is obviously abnormal, Mrs. C. W. H. was not quite convinced until her cousin added a similar opinion.

She says: "My baby is thriving on your feeding schedule. He weighed nine pounds at birth and now weighs seventeen pounds, cries for his cereal and is a perfect little pig over it. I found your previous advice exceedingly helpful."

GOOD-BY, LAXATIVES

"Your expressed belief that a missed bowel movement meant nothing was confirmed by a cousin of mine who is a baby specialist. She contains that a great portion of milk is water and is secreted by the kidneys, and that there is now always a sufficient mass in the intestines to warrant a daily movement. She also thinks that so many laxatives and enemas and suppositories make for a lazy colon and chronic constipation.

"Believing this, I stopped forcing a daily action and the one every three days soon established itself. Good actions and baby feeling fine. Since I started the cereal he has them more frequently, sometimes one a day. He has two night feedings and I realize that he ought to be dropping one, but I hate to force him to go without it, as I feel he will do later when he has additional food. He is never sick, never has a cold, smiles and laughs at everyone and hardly cries during the day. There doesn't seem much cause to worry about anything with such a healthy, gaining, happy baby, sleeping fifteen hours daily."

That is exactly the right attitude, Mrs. C. W. H. The baby, though, doesn't really need this second night feeding and would probably gain just as well without it. You might try for a few nights, offering just water when he wakes to see if he will go to sleep without a feeding. If he stays awake too long, wait a month and hope that with increased daytime feedings he will some time sleep through that early morning feeding.

The feeding schedule, "Weaning and Feeding from Six Weeks to Six Years," is available to any reader and may be obtained by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope with each request to Myrtle Meyer Eldred, in care of the "Your Baby and Mine" department.

continued Mr. Moore, that steps be taken to make it possible for mills in Canada to use Canadian grown wool, which is now largely exported. Three weeks ago, he said, the local mills had been desirous of obtaining "tops" from Canadian wool, and would have used the shearings of 50,000 sheep in one order.

It was found that the tops could not be secured in Canada, because wool was sent out to be first processed and then returned. The cost of this arrangement put the price of the tops beyond the reach of local mills, he concluded.

DEMONSTRATION OF FRIGIDAIRE WILL BE HELD

Use of the recently introduced Frigidaire hydrator to preserve the crisp freshness of leafy vegetables and similar foods for long periods of time has proved such a popular subject with housewives everywhere, that Bruce Robinson, local distributor, has arranged a special ten-day demonstration at the local showroom, 720 Yates Street, beginning Thursday, March 13 and ending March 22.

"Since the announcement of the new hydrator, we have received scores of visitors who wanted this new development in the field of household refrigeration explained," he said. "Information that the hydrator is an important aid in the preparation of tasty, fresh salads of all kinds has aroused such general interest that this special demonstration has been decided upon."

The demonstration will be held daily from 9 o'clock in the morning until 10 o'clock at night. Salads will be prepared from vegetables which have been freshened in the hydrator. Desserts, frozen with the aid of the famous Frigidaire cold control, will be served to visitors.

Many other features have been arranged for the demonstration, it was announced.

The Frigidaire salad book, containing many methods for the preparation of a wide variety of dishes will be distributed during this period. This book is a companion piece to the Frigidaire frozen desserts booklet, more than half a million of which were requested by housewives during the first few months after the announcement of the cold control last year.

LONDON EXPECTS NICKEL PROFITS TO DOUBLE AGAIN

London, March 11.—The Financial Times declares:

Quarterly figures on International Nickel disclose striking progress for the past year, and this must be regarded as merely a forecast of what may later be expected, although any big expansion of their programme is still a long way from completion. With a current quotation of just over forty dollars a share the company has the startling market valuation of over $110,000,000, which may naturally seem quite disproportionate to a net profit approximately of $2,236,000 for the past year, but it has to be recognized that there is every prospect of their profits being doubled again in the next year or two, and even that may not represent the limit of the undertaking nor the possibilities.

"Raw material available gives assurance of a long life to this company, and also that future earnings will mainly be limited only by the market for their products, as well as to the limit to which the directors think it prudent to expand operations."

Keen Competition Expected In "Y" Championship Gala

THE SPORTS MIRROR

FRANK PATRICK, president of the Pacific Coast Hockey League, sees a brilliant future for the game of hockey on the North American continent. Looking a few years ahead, Frank, who is known throughout the hockey world as one of the smartest moguls in the game to-day, visualizes the time when hockey will branch from obscurity and open-air playing surfaces into the realm of big business in sport, with arenas capable of accommodating enormous crowds. He can see the day when hockey will rank alongside soccer football in the Old Country and baseball in the United States as super attractions.

Patrick's vision, as published in The Vancouver Sun, follows: "What happens, in baseball, when a player goes off form? They yank him. Why shouldn't a goalkeeper, in hockey, be taken out for his understudy if he is having a bad night? Surprising? Not so much. You'll see it in hockey. "The hockey squad of the future will be much like the present playing strength of a first-class English football eleven or one of the major league baseball teams south of us. "You'll see hockey clubs with two goalies, five defense men and nine forwards, three attacking lines, even as Boston has to-day. Hockey will become a game for not one coach but two or three, just as in American football. "Hockey has lacked an historical background. That is being remedied. The game has hit the big centres, found them vulnerable, sympathetic and, finally, enthusiastic. "The result is noted to-day in New York, in Chicago and in Boston, where the cleverest newspaper writers—who seem, somehow, to gravitate to the sports pages—are paying eloquent, even if belated, tribute to this country's most thrilling form of entertainment. "Operating costs, steadily climbing for a number of years, will go even higher. Salaries for players have not yet reached the peak. Commensurately, hockey will develop into million-dollar undertakings. New York with two teams. One not so hot, will gross $750,000 this season. The N.H.L. gross take is far ahead of last season. It will go higher. "In Montreal, Canadiens will be compelled to branch away from The Forum, already too circumscribed, and erect their own arena—one capable of taking care of 20,000, in the French part of that great city which is two-thirds French in population. "Canadiens have exclusive first rights to all hockey ivory of that nationality. Imagine the color possibilities of that concession alone! "For purposes of illustration in what is to come in coaching activities or what might be called the tactics of hockey, take the Boston Bruins of yesterday this year under the joint direction of Art Ross and Charles Adams, a combination of craft unexcelled in the sports of business world to-day. "Their success has been phenomenal. Sports delineators to-morrow will be pointing feverishly back at the Boston Bruins of to-day as one of the game's greatest aggregations. What has been done by Boston's system of management indicates what the future holds for hockey along strategic lines. "The Bruins are engaged to-night, let us say, 'if it says 'Detroit, eh? Not so hot. But dangerous. "He shoots Galbraith, Oliver and Barry in his front line. Great backcheckers. Not so brilliant offensive. "The game proceeds and Detroit is being held. No scoring. Ross yanks that trio and shoots in Galtner, Weiland and Clapper, fastest-moving offensive three in hockey. "Detroit wearies. The pace tells. Boston gets goals, one, two, maybe five or six. The game is sewed up. Ross yanks his big three. Saves 'em. Sends in his third front string or his second. You see? Another victory and still plenty of reserve. None of his three lines used up. "Against a fast-moving line like the two Cocks and Frank Boucher of the Rangers, Boston would shoot in the Galtner-Weiland-Clapper trio. "Send them down, then shoot in both reserve lines as the need impelled. Boston is showing the way. Plenty of strength in all departments and extra punch when demanded. That's how the Bruins have played their amazing win record. Just a jump or two up on the opposition at all times. "Additional coaching will be needed as the game expands and the activities of one man are entirely occupied either in defensive strategy or in offensive plays. "If hockey expands and enlarges as it must, where is the talent coming from? Of what quality? Any student of hockey knows that players come in three classifications. The super star, the better-than-average and the run-of-mine kind. "Navy Lalonde, one of the greatest tricksters and quick thinkers of all time in lacrosse and hockey, was a flop as coach in New York his first year. Why? Because he couldn't grasp a fundamental in athletics that all players do not absorb everything on a first telling. Lalonde knew. But he couldn't transmit his brains, his ability, his uncanny perception of what to do and when to his squad. In short, he figured a team of Lalonde and he didn't have them. "Most of the hockey ivory crop is grown in the sticks, the small towns and villages of the provinces. All they have, many of them on purchase, is natural ability. They need expert coaching. That is where the coaches come in. "There will be attack and defence specialists in hockey coaching. They will come mostly from the experienced ranks of players. Those who have trained themselves to think. "Hockey salaries will go upward. The

With Babe Ruth Lending Spirit to Other Players, 1928 American League Champions Appear Serious Threat to Athletics' Title This Season; Bob Shawkey Appears to Have Patched Up Weak Spots; Ruth Appears in Excellent Condition; Three New Prospective Pitching Stars.

By ALAN J. GOULD, Associated Press Sports Writer
St. Petersburg, Fla., March 11.—The warning may as well be broadcast now that the New York Yankees, after taking it strictly on the chin in 1929, are ready to step right back into the American League pennant fight and make the Philadelphia Athletics prove they belong on top.

Polish Track Star Is Barred From the U.S.

New York, March 11.—At the order of the International Amateur Athletic Federation, Stanislaw Kotkiewicz, Polish distance runner, has been barred from further competition in the United States. Latvia, his native land, for which he competed in the last Olympics, has denied him permission ever to compete in that country again and has asked the I.A.A.F. to make the disqualification universal. The A.A.U. sought information as to whether he was eligible pending settlement of the case and received a reply in the negative. Shortly after his arrival in this country he was suspended by the A.A.U. He was reinstated, however, when the case was decided by the country as diplomatic courier for the Polish Government.

Island Boxing And Wrestling Titles To Be Decided Soon

Entries for these events will be accepted up until Tuesday, March 18. Entry forms may be obtained upon application to the secretary of the Chemainus Recreation Club.

average crop will be worth, roughly, $3,000. Stars will run from that sum to $8,000, and the super-star will fetch anything up to $15,000. "They will earn it, because receipts will mount as the seasons go on and the revenue play-offs move the financial mercury right to the top of the thermometer. "Hockey clubs will hit the million-dollar class in a season. "With the advent of bigger playing squads, will come twenty-five-minute playing periods and no overtime. "The N.H.L. will break into two distinct major formations are long. The present system is cumbersome and wearying. The jammer of inter-sectional clashes will cease. Two six club leagues will replace it."

SCOTLAND WINS OPENING EVENT IN CARPET MEET

Representative Team Defeats Canada in Feature Event of Bowling Tourney

Event Opened By Mayor Ancomb; Two Matches Played in Novice Singles

The annual tournament of the Capital City and District Carpet Bowling Association got away to a fine start following its official opening by Mayor Ancomb, yesterday evening, when a team representing Scotland defeated one representing Canada by a 34-33 score at the Crystal Garden.

In the novice single games of the evening, Boulter and McMartin gained victories over Shipway and Sellers by scores of 21-15 and 21-7 respectively. Bland and Blossom and Goodwin and Waterhouse took the open doubles with scores of 21-12 and 20-11 over Flett and Johnson and Archer and Gardiner in the first encounter.

In opening the tournament, Mayor Ancomb referred to the introduction of the game into Victoria by Lord Byng, former Governor-General of Canada. Since its introduction here it had made such rapid strides that it was now one of the most popular winter pastimes of the city, he added, saying that there were approximately 400 players in the different clubs in the city.

Centralization of the meet in the Crystal Garden was viewed with approval by the mayor, who voiced the opinion that it would be much more successful when the different games were carried on under the one roof.

CLOSE GAMES EXPECTED
Looking over the entries, Mayor Ancomb stated he thought Nelson and Saunders, the two outstanding contenders for the city championship last year, would have to be at the top of their games to win their way into the final this year.

He also commented on the closeness of the international match, noting that it was won by Canada in 1929 by a fraction of a point.

SOCCER MEETING

The Juvenile League Football Association will hold a meeting in the Y.M.C.A. to-morrow evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Seek to Match McLarnin With Jack Kid Berg

New York, March 11.—Efforts are being made to sign Jimmy McLarnin, Vancouver fight star, and Jack Kid Berg for a battle to take place in Madison Square Garden on April 4. The hitch so far lies in the fact that Berg's manager, Red Goldie, says he wants McLarnin to weigh 140 on the day of the fight, whereas Charles "Pop" Foster, McLarnin's pilot, says the best his boy would do would be 144 pounds.

Seven Members of British Walker Cup Team Selected; Roger Wethered Is Captain

St. Andrews, Scotland, March 11.—The championship committee of the Royal and Ancient Golf Club of St. Andrews to-day announced the names of seven players who have been definitely chosen to play in the Walker Cup competition at Sandwich, May 15 and May 16. Roger Wethered, veteran golfer, will captain the team.

The seven whose names were made public to-day were: R. W. Hartley, Sir Ernest Holderness, J. N. Smith, J. A. Stout, Cyril Tolley, T. A. Torrance and Roger Wethered. This leaves three still to be chosen.

"It is to be regretted," adds the club's statement, "that Dr. W. T. Tweedell and John Wilson will not be available." As the team itself consists of eight men, there is only one other place to fill, but two reserves will be nominated and may be called upon to play in either singles or foursomes. The selection this year is being made much earlier than usual, which the British golfing world figures is all to the good for Great Britain, as hitherto the players have not had such opportunity to prepare themselves for the big event as they will this year.

Gregalach Now Reported To Be In Good Shape

London, March 11.—Gregalach, favorite for the Grand National and winner of last year's race, is now "all right." Racing circles for the last few days had been agitated by the persistent rumor that Mrs. Gernon's famous gelding was injured and forced to suspend training. Now, however, his trainer has given Gregalach a clear bill of health and the favorite moved quite freely in exercise yesterday.

Large Entry List Gives Promise of Fast, Close Races

Swimmers Will Seek Association Titles in Meet at Crystal Garden Thursday Evening; Forty Competitors Already Entered and More Expected; Girls' Events Included in Programme; Comedy Stunt Expected To Be Feature.

With the Y.M.C.A. annual championship gala only two days off, forty swimmers from the association have filed their entries for the different events and promise plenty of competition for the various races on the programme. Before to-night the list is expected to reach over fifty.

This year two new features will be introduced at the gala. Girls' races will be held for the first time and a comedy troupe will perform for the entertainment of the large gathering which is expected to attend the meet.

Two Wednesday League Football Games To-morrow

In the two Wednesday League football matches scheduled for to-morrow afternoon, the Hudson's Bay will play Bachelors at Beacon Hill while the Navy and Sammie Threlkeld will hook up at the Royal Athletic Park. Both matches will commence at 2:45 o'clock.

TRAIL HEAVY FAVORITES TO BEAT ALBERTA

Will Meet Blairmore To-night in Opening Game of Allan Cup Hockey Series

Second Game To-morrow Night; Ex-King George to Meet Calgary in Vancouver

Vancouver, March 11.—British Columbia's hopes in the senior and junior Dominion amateur hockey championship series, Trail Smoke Eaters and Vancouver ex-King Georges, get their first tests of inter-provincial competition this week in first round cup games.

Blairmore, champions of Alberta, arrived in Trail yesterday evening for their two-game series with the Smoke Eaters, the winners of which will continue in the Dominion senior championship series. The first game is scheduled for to-night, with the second encounter Wednesday night. Trail Smoke Eaters are highly favored to win the series as the result of several pre-season exhibition games played against the Alberta champions, contests in which the British Columbians showed marked superiority. In such a short important championship series, however, anything can happen.

JUNIORS AT VANCOUVER

Meanwhile, Calgary Canadians, Alberta junior champions, will battle it out with the ex-Kings on Vancouver ice for the right to continue in the Dominion minor series eliminations. The first game will be played Wednesday night, with the second slated for Friday. The Albertans left their home city yesterday evening full of confidence that they will be the team to continue on towards the Canadian championship goal. The Canadians are favored to down the Coast team, as in late years the Alberta junior representatives have always proven too good for the Coast kids.

The winners of the Trail-Blairmore series will meet the Saskatchewan champions in the next round of the Allan Cup play-offs, while the winners of the Vancouver-Calgary series will also hook up with the Saskatchewan winners in the next round of the junior playdowns.

Two Wednesday League Football Games To-morrow

In the two Wednesday League football matches scheduled for to-morrow afternoon, the Hudson's Bay will play Bachelors at Beacon Hill while the Navy and Sammie Threlkeld will hook up at the Royal Athletic Park. Both matches will commence at 2:45 o'clock.

Competitors in this section are required to dive, plunge for distance and swim two races, fifty and 200 yards freestyle. The contestant scoring the highest aggregate receives the cup along with the senior championship honors of the Y.M.C.A.

WILL CROWN NEW CHAMPS
Ed Roskelley, who carried off all honors in the class last year, has passed the senior age limit of eighteen years and will not be eligible for competition.

New champions will also be crowned in the junior and intermediate divisions in the coming gala. Raymond Jones and "Chuck" Sharpe, who took the laurels in these classes in 1929, will not compete this year.

All the swimmers of the association have entered for at least one event and have been practicing consistently for the gala.

GIRLS' EVENTS
The girls' events and the diving programme will be particularly interesting. In view of the fact that this will be the first time members of the fairer sex have appeared in competition at a "Y" championship meet, followers of the swimming game are anxious to see how they will stack up in such a competition. In the final race of the evening, they will join with the boys in a mixed relay and will most likely take part in the push ball games following the races.

The boys have been progressing very favorably in diving and have put up some good exhibitions. Each competitor will be called upon to perform three optional dives, a running plain, a jack-knife and a back dive as well as a tuck.

The majority of the competitors in the meet have shown their prowess in previous galas in the city and should doubtless give a finished performance on Thursday evening.

COMEDY ACT
The comedy team from the "Y" has been rehearsing a special act for several weeks and hopes to put on a stunt that will surpass any seen in the water here. One of the acts is a Krug kept the audience in roars of laughter several years ago.

The team was seen in a side-splitting stunt during the High School gala recently and should give an even better presentation at the gala.

Vancouver Strengthens Hold On Hockey Leadership

McAdam Stars As Lions Outclass Portland Bucks

Young Forward Engineers Plays for Three of Vancouver's Goals as Champions Hang Up 4-2 Victory Over Portland; 8,000 Howling Fans See Lions Outskate, Outmanoeuvre and Outsmart Bucks; Portland Still Has Chance of Finishing on Top.

Canadian Press

Vancouver, March 11.—Frank Patrick's Vancouver Lions now hold a four-point lead at the top of the Pacific Coast Hockey League standing and have but two more scheduled games to play. They defeated the second-place Portland Buckaroos, their rivals for the league leadership, 4-2, in a whirlwind display yesterday evening before a howling crowd of close to 8,000 fans. The race for first place is not over yet, however, as the bucks still have four games remaining on their schedule and have a fair mathematical chance of at least tying the Lions for leadership honors.

For two periods yesterday evening with a second goal, but they were stopped right there and could not cut the Lions' advantage any further. The Lions demonstrated to their supporters why they are top of the league and why they should remain there. They outskated, outmanoeuvred, and generally out-smarted the usually clever Portland team, and at the end of forty minutes of lightning-fast hockey led by 4-1. Late in the third period they eased up somewhat and Portland got back into the picture.

Christ Church Badminton Players Surprise By Scoring 11-5 Victory

Emmanuel Baptists in Easy Win Over "Y"; Langford Defeats Fairfield

Emmanuel Baptists, Christ Church and the Langford Leghorns were the victors in three Lower Island Badminton League fixtures yesterday evening. All were Third Division fixtures. Christ Church's win was the most noteworthy as they had to invade the Exhibition grounds for their match with the Willows which they won by a 11-5 score. Baptists and Langford defeated the Y.M.C.A. and Fairfield clubs respectively in their own gyms.
Emmanuel Baptists were never in danger in their match with the Y.M.C.A. at the Baptist Church, and the Y.M.C.A. were forced to the limit to secure their victory which was Mrs. Erickson, 18-17 in a hard-fought game. Langford Leghorns had a stiff fight with Fairfield who through their defeat slipped from second to third place allowing the Garrison to go one point ahead. Both Fairfield and Langford had temporary leads in their match but Langford finished strong to win by two matches.
Christ Church at the Willows won more easily than expected from the home club who have not been very impressive of late in their league fixtures. Both teams took two women's doubles while the winners came out on top in three of the four men's and then added another six wins in the mixed doubles to bring their total to eleven.

Turn of Tapping Hand Directs Ball

Centre tap does not play so vital a part in deciding basketball games as was the case a decade ago, due to better knowledge of defence. Still they are a vital factor in any contest. When a team can control the tip-off it actually has a ten or fifteen per cent advantage over its adversary because it just maintains possession of the ball just about that much more time.
When you next view a game watch the centre who controls the tap. He is able to put the ball in any direction. This mastery of direction is secured by turning the tapping hand toward the desired direction as he leaps for the ball.
Direction control, as well as the accuracy, is necessary in order to permit of a great variety of centre tap plays, all of which are signalled in advance. This method of giving signals will be covered to-morrow.

Rutledge Warns Government Against Encouraging Immigration
More Liquor Store Workers Due For Dismissal, He Says
Consumers and the unemployed were two classes of people in whose behalf R. W. Rutledge, Conservative member for Burnaby, sought to enlist the sympathy of the Legislature yesterday in the course of the budget debate.
"We have special legislation for the milkman, the potato grower, the fisherman; the farmers and all these classes," he said, "but what has this government done for the consumers? Not one thing. We have combined in the wheat pool, the egg pool and the fruit pool, and now what we need is a price committee to see that the consumer gets a square deal by checking profiteering under all this control legislation."
Mr. Rutledge warned against advertising for immigrants, who, on arrival, would find themselves candidates for relief jobs in Vancouver at $1 a day. The real immigrants were the pioneers who came determined to make good. Advertisements of free passage did not bring that kind.
He advocated state health insurance and what he called citizens' insurance, insurance against unemployment. The late government had made good progress in social legislation, and these other two measures were bound to come, he stated.
With regard to patronage, he said the opposition was crying before it was hushed. Every employee of the Liquor Board, he charged, was a president or secretary of a Liberal Association.
"They cry before they're hurt," he said, "but they are going to get hurt, and the sooner the better."

FUEL BURNER IS INVENTED

The invention of a Victorian, in the evolution of a new type of fuel oil burner for domestic and other use, received prominence before the City Council yesterday evening when application was made for a change in city regulations to permit of the storage of 150-gallon tanks of fuel oil in the basements of dwellings.
The application was made on behalf of Albion Johns, formerly a member of the City Council and well known in local business circles. The invention, patent for which has been applied for, was described as a marked advance on the existing form of fuel oil burners for heating purposes in the home. Local manufacture is contemplated, after the completion of the necessary steps to secure authorization of the invention, and its approval by the fire underwriters, it was stated.
Alderman James Adams described the device as a "wonderful invention." Its manufacture here, if made possible, would be an asset to the community, he said.
Alderman J. L. Mara opposed any change in city regulations as to fuel oil storage at this stage. If the device was approved by the underwriters' laboratory, such a change could then be reasonably considered, he said.
Alderman H. O. Litchfield suggested the request be referred to the city fire wardens and the city solicitor for report. This course carried.

H. SMITH TURNS IN FINE CARD

Paired With Ed. Dudley, Young Pro Wins Match at Miami By 12 and 11 Score

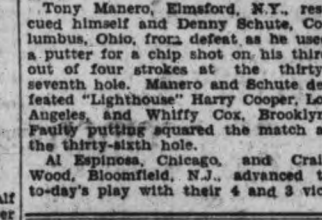

Other Favorites Win in Four-ball Classic; Smith Has Thirteen Birdies

Miami, Fla., March 11.—Horton Smith, of Cragston, N.Y., paired with Ed Dudley, of Wilmington, Del., yesterday scored thirteen birdies out of twenty-five holes of actual playing and advanced to third day's play in the $5,000 international fourball matches. With the most decisive rout in the seven years' history of the tournament, the pair scored a 12 and 11 victory in a scheduled thirty-six holes match with Leonard Schutte, Lima, Ohio, and Clarence Hackney, Atlantic City.
While they, as favorites in the lower bracket, were accomplishing their rout, Gene Sarazen, Fresh Meadows, L.I., and Johnny Farrell, St. Augustine, Fla., won a similarly handy 7 and 6 victory over their second day opponents, Johnny Manion, St. Louis, and Jim Dante, Madison, N.J.
Frank Walsh, Chicago, and Al Watrous, Detroit, advanced to to-day's play with their 6 and 4 defeat of Denny Sullivan, Chicago, and Jimmy Martucci, Teterboro, N.J., while another large score marked the 6 and 4 defeat of Joe Turnesa, Elmford, N.J., and Henry Gluek, Bridgeport, Conn., by Jack Collins, Dayton, Ohio, winner of the St. Petersburg open, and Eddie Williams, Cleveland.

Healed His Rupture

I was badly ruptured while lifting a trunk several years ago. Doctors said my only hope of recovery was an operation. Trusses did me no good. Finally I got hold of something that quickly and completely healed me. Years have passed and the rupture has never returned, although I am doing hard work as a carpenter. There was no operation, no lost time, no trouble. I have nothing to sell but will give full information about how you may find a complete recovery without operation if you write to me, Eugene M. Pullen, Carpenter, 311-B Marquette Avenue, Massena, N.Y. Better cut out this notice and show it to any others who are ruptured—you may save a life or at least stop the misery of the rupture and the worry and danger of an operation. (Adv.)

Needless Pain!

The man who wouldn't drive his motorcar half a mile when it's out of order, will often drive his brain all day with a head that throbs.

Such punishment isn't very good for one's nerves! It's unwise, and it's unnecessary. For a tablet or two of Aspirin will relieve a headache every time. So, remember this accepted antidote for pain, and spare yourself a lot of needless suffering. Read the proven directions and you'll discover many valuable uses for these tablets. For headaches; to check colds. To ease a sore throat and reduce the infection. For relieving neuralgia, neuritis, rheumatic pain.

People used to wonder if Aspirin might be harmful. The doctors answered that question years ago.

It is not. Some folks still wonder if it really does relieve pain. That's settled! For millions of men and women have found it does. To cure the cause of any pain you must consult your doctor; but you may always turn to Aspirin for immediate relief.

Sweeten the stomach—instantly

About two hours after eating many people suffer from sour stomachs. They call it indigestion. It means that the stomach nerves have been over-stimulated. There is excess acid. The way to correct it is with an alkali, which neutralizes many times its volume in acid.

The right way is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia—just a tasteless dose in water. It is pleasant, efficient and

AWARD TENDERS CITY SUPPLIES

New Truck For Paving Plant Will Be Ordered After Bids Called

Tenders accepted by the City Council yesterday evening included bid on the supplying of twenty lawn mowers and grass catchers. The city will buy from Marshall Wells for $273, the lowest tenderer. Supplies for the Old Men's Home will be bought as follows: Bread, Canadian Bakeries Limited; milk, Victoria City Dairy; fish, B. W. Brown & Sons.

HOSPITAL CASE

IS AGREED ON
City Council Votes to Settle For Emergency Patients at St. Joseph's

The City Council settled the St. Joseph's Hospital issue yesterday evening by adopting a report of the finance committee to the effect that emergency cases committed to the institution should be dealt with as they arise, and each on its merits.

The council refused to set a rate of $2.50 a day as payment for such cases, but elected to take up the question of payment through the City Health Officer as such cases may arise. Aldermen James Adam, E. S. Woodward and H. O. Litchfield would have sanctioned payment of a flat rate of $2.50 a day for all patients committed by the city to the hospital. Mayor Anscomb and Aldermen Dewar, Mars, Worthington, Smith, Cullin and Straith voted to adopt the report of the finance committee, to settle each case on its merits.

The council elected to renew the grant to the Children's Aid Society, as in former years. The request of the Dalziel Box Company for the use of part of Turner Street in connection with work extension was refused. A counter petition by James Gourlay and twenty-seven others was filed with the council against the application.

The council decided to have the northwest corner of Rockland Avenue and St. Charles Street rounded at a cost of $185. Land for the purpose has been donated to the city.

A city lot on the south side of Huron Street, between Doncaster and Shakespeare Streets, was sold to a local buyer for $100.

A sinking fund investment will be made through the Royal Financial Corporation, in $1,000 of debentures, to yield 5.15 per cent.

Royal Oak

A well-attended masquerade dance was held in the Royal Oak Community Hall on Friday evening by the Royal Oak Women's Institute. The prizes were donated by Angus Campbell & Co. Carver; best advertising lady, Mrs. Carver; best advertising gentleman, Jas. Bull; original lady (Hawaiian), Miss Kathleen Brown; original gentleman (Uncle Sam), Ronald Strummond; best comic (Barnacle Bill, the sailor), Mr. Bowman; Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Wallace of Keating, and Mrs. Dorothy Wilson of Victoria acted as judges. A. C. Culham of Lake Hill was master of ceremonies.

The monthly meeting of the Royal Oak Women's Institute will be held in the Community Hall on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, when plans for the spring bulb show will be under discussion.

Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Comley and Miss Mildred Comley spent the week-end with Mrs. Comley's mother, Mrs. Etheridge, Wilkinson Road.

The Colwood boys have now won three and lost one game in the basketball league. The last game they will play will be at Sooke on Thursday afternoon.

The card party under the auspices of the Colwood Hall committee will be held as usual on Wednesday evening.

The Colwood Burns Club will hold a dance Friday evening, March 21, in Colwood Hall. Pinder's orchestra will supply the music. The weekly practice dance for members of the Colwood Burns Club will take place as usual on Tuesday.

Horoscope

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 12, 1930

Astrologers read this as an unfortunate day in which most of the planetary aspects are adverse.

Early in the morning there is an encouraging sign for all sorts of trade. Dealers in food should profit most at this time.

Under this way the mind may be open to unpleasant suggestions and depressing thoughts, for this reason recreation is recommended.

The day is not beneficial for men and women past middle life. They should conserve their energies and avoid exertion.

Under this direction of the stars engineers and builders should possess themselves in patience, for initiative may be most disappointing.

Quarrels and arguments may be easily started under this planetary government.

Much opposition to the established order of things may be prevalent.

Such discussion of government and governmental problems is forecast, and those to whom executive office have been entrusted will be severely criticized, it is prognosticated.

Prisons and prison reforms will be subjects of satiation among reformers this spring, but while changes will be made the stars indicate that prisoners will be slow to accept change.

Sports continue subject to the most stimulating planetary influences. The next two years will show development in new lines of effort, it is prophesied.

ROAD MAKING TO BE LEFT TO THE PROVINCES

Commons Rejects Kellner Motion in Favor of Federal Five-year Grant

Premier King Says Understanding Must Be Based on B.N.A. Act

Canadian Press

Ottawa, March 11.—By a vote of seventy-nine to fifty-nine, the House of Commons yesterday evening rejected a private member's resolution calling on the government to consider grants to the provinces for highway construction.

The resolution, moved by D. F. Kellner, U.P.A. member for Athabasca, read as follows:

"Whereas in that year the Dominion Government recognized its responsibility in this matter by a substantial grant, which grant is now exhausted; and whereas it is resolved that, in the opinion of this House, the government should consider the advisability that a further substantial grant be made to cover the next five years' development of highway construction."

Yesterday was private members' day, but only the one resolution was debated. It occupied the attention of the members for the entire sitting.

The members of the government and members of the opposition shared in the discussion, declaring opposition to the principle of federal grants for highways. Hon. R. B. Bennett, Conservative leader, voiced support of the proposal.

PREMIER SPEAKS

Premier King said Sir Robert Borden's bill of 1912 respecting a national highway had been introduced in anticipation of a general election, in order to gain political support. It was true it had been introduced at the first session of that government, but then the matter had been allowed to drop.

(Hon. R. B. Bennett had said during his speech earlier yesterday afternoon that the Kellner resolution involved a principle that was not new. Sir Robert Borden had promised the country prior to 1911 that he would give support to highways if he were returned to power.)

Mr. King said it appeared to be becoming a party question, members thought a general election was coming again that so many speeches had been made to-day on the highway question.

"I cannot agree," Mr. King stated, "that the need for highways is greater now. The highways are in infinitely better condition to-day than they were then."

Mr. Adair arose to ask if the situation as between the west and the east was not different on account of the matter of the natural resources.

"I am glad," said Mr. King, "that my honorable friend has brought that matter up. He did not, however, point out to the House that the western provinces were receiving subsidies in lieu of the natural resources."

"A highway might help to unite the country," the Premier went on, "but I would point out that we now have the two finest transcontinental railway systems in the world."

"The real bond of union is a bond of harmony between the provinces and the Dominion."

PROGRESS SEEN

Great progress had been made in the consideration of the highway question, which was of a type which former administrations had found it difficult to deal with, said Mr. King, going on to explain the progress which had been made in regard to the return to the provinces of their natural resources.

Because he opposed grants for highways and technical education opposition members had tried to give the impression he was not in favor of development along those lines, said Premier King. He was not opposed to those things and felt as strongly on the question of a transcontinental highway as anyone, but so long as the Federal Government had obligations which could only be met out of the Federal treasury, he was opposed to embarking on matters within provincial jurisdiction.

"No country could possibly carry on its affairs without some understanding of its obligations," he said. "The only understanding on which we can work is that laid down very widely in the much abused British North America Act."

MR. STEWART SPEAKS

Hon. Charles Stewart, Minister of the Interior, said he had no quarrel with those who desired a highway built across Canada, but speakers seemed to be of the opinion that the Federal Government was doing nothing in the way of highway construction and nothing to encourage the inflow of tourists. This was erroneous.

Mr. Stewart took issue with those who felt that just because the government derived revenue from imports on cars, it should spend more on a national highway.

The minister was critical of the propaganda instilled by the Automobile Association of Canada for a national highway built with government funds.

TO-DAY'S GRAIN MARKETS

(By Branson, Brown & Co. Limited)

Winnipeg, March 11.—Wheat: Held firmly, steady, but practically lower prices during the first part of the day, but around midday heavy selling by outside interests appeared, and helped by some stop loss selling which came through commission houses, the market broke three cents from the close yesterday and from to-day's high mark. The reaction from this break was feeble and the slight upturns were difficult to hold.

The selling came principally from New York, and probably much of it was from the other side. There was practically no change in the export situation, and overnight sales were confined to a few scattered loads worked from seaboard and was not reflected in the market.

Interest from abroad for North American grain is admittedly very disappointing and with the tremendous supplies on this continent the traders are nothing in a situation to hold a market but a first-class crop scare, but the crop outlook at present appears to be anything but favorable for any bull movement, although rain is perhaps needed in parts of winter wheat belt.

The local cash market was very quiet, with just a light demand for certain grades, as unchanged spreads and only an occasional car was changing hands. There is a little business in flour for export and the domestic demand is only moderate. What buying appeared was all local and was largely against the daily blend in bulk.

The break brought in no new business, and so far as can be learned there are no buying orders from abroad, even at 81. This is the fifth day that the market has finished up in new lows.

Coarse grain: These markets were all weak and lost considerable ground, getting down into new low figures for the year. General liquidation is going on which indicates buying power almost absent. Export business appears to be out of the question, as Europe seemingly does not require either barley or rye, at least not at present.

Barley: This market followed the general trend and sold off to lower levels. The demand is very thin, and crushers continue to show no interest.

BIG FLORIDA BUYING RAISES GEN. MOTORS; AUBURN OVER 254

New York, March 11 (B.C. Bond).—In today's abbreviated session the market closed at 12:30 o'clock in respect to the memory of William Howard Taft, the tape ran substantially behind, with transactions both in number and unit volume substantially on the increase.

BIG OPERATORS BUYING G.M.

Trading in Radio and General Motors was particularly heavy, and it was rumored that buying in General Motors still resident in Florida. Columbia Graphophone was strong on reports that negotiations for a merger with Radio were again actively under way.

AVERAGES ALMOST UNCHANGED

At the close of the market this afternoon, the Dow Jones average of thirty industrials stood at 276.25, off 0.80 points for the day; for twenty rails at 152.54, up 0.04 points; and for twenty utilities at 100.58, off 0.04 points.

Sales for the day totaled 2,628,000 shares. Simmons Bed was subjected to further heavy selling and broke to new lows for the year, tumbling from 61 1/4 to 56 1/4.

AUBURN CONTINUES RISE

Auburn Motors rose to a new high for the move, climbing from 250 1/2 to 254 1/2.

Packard continued to firm, and from 21 1/2 reached 22 1/2.

General Motors moved up from 44 1/2 to 45 1/2.

RADIO HOLDS GAINS

Standard Oil of New Jersey stepped up from 62 1/2 to 63 1/2.

Radio Corporation held its recent gains and moved on up from 51 1/2 to 52 1/2.

AMUSEMENT STOCKS SOLD

Vanadium was erratic, selling from 85 down to 83, and then coming back up to 85 1/2.

It appeared to be a fact that substantial profit-taking came into the amusement stocks, which were slightly reactionary.

MUCH SWITCHING OVER

The tone as the session drew to a close was irregular, but not weak, and it was said that traders were busy shifting from stocks which appeared to have exhausted their possibilities for the present to others which showed signs of coming to the front. And in this connection General Motors, before the close, attracted a large following.

On the Curb, Electric Bond and Share continued under pressure and eased to 98 1/2.

Call money held at 4 per cent all day.

WALL STREET OPINIONS

New York, March 11.—Among the opinions expressed to-day were:

Paine Webber and Company: Admitting the probability of irregularity in the stock market for another month or two, economic fundamentals are set for the erection of another bull market.

Morrison and Townsend: Call money rates of 5 1/2 per cent have always been the basis for an extended bull move-

WHITNEY LETTER

RIGHT ON UP

"This is the week in which you were advised the market would start that phase of its advance which would be looked upon as definite and conclusive evidence that what has been witnessed in the past was accumulation, and in which the advance to be recorded would be sufficiently radical to be reminiscent of last year's market. Yesterday's session, which completely reversed the usual Monday tendency toward reaction, which has characterized the market sessions of this year, confirms the opinion expressed here and will lead to-day to another sharp upward revision in prices.

"The irregularity in the market, which is largely confined to the utility group and electrical equipment stocks, represents nothing more than a temporary resting spell in these groups, which was the market's leader of a week to ten days ago. A few days more and these groups will join the current advance.

"Increase in the steel tonnage, which creates a distinct surplus, confirms the opinion that the stock market is right in advancing to discount business improvement. There will be more of these surpluses when the market is considerably higher. Get long of the market before too many evidences are provided that the prophets of gloom have overdone things.

COMMENT

"National Cash Register, due to technical conditions which have been removed, has lagged behind its group, which has been establishing new tops. With the removal of these technical conditions, Cash Register will make up for lost time, so the recommendation to buy it now while it remains below 80 should prove profitable, and rather quickly.

"You have a quick ten to fifteen points profit in Vanadium Steel, which makes it advisable to cash the trading profit within the range of 85 to 90.

"Union Carbide, Air Reduction and Du Pont are all at new tops. They are three of the issues into which you were advised speculation would turn this week. All three are still amply covered, and all three are recommended for purchase again now.

"Radio is again at a new top, and going higher, as are the motion picture stocks, in which group I believe famous players hold perhaps the best immediate possibilities.

"Continue the purchase of General Electric and Montgomery Ward during their temporary resting spells, as they will be particularly hard to buy when they get under way again.

"Continue the purchase of American Can, which will come into prominence before the end of the week, while these purchases can be effected with the stock at the present level.

"As indicated yesterday, the entire chemical group points sharply upward. To the three chemical issues mentioned above, I believe you can add a moderate amount of National Distillers."

ALGOMA EASTERN ISSUES

Toronto, March 11.—The Algoma Eastern Railway Company, which is being acquired by the C.P.R. from the Lake Superior Corporation, has three different securities outstanding: bond, preferred stock and common stock. According to the last report, received here by Miller, Court & Co., the amount of bonds outstanding, first mortgage five per cent issue, was $2,226,500. The interest on these bonds, unlike that of Algoma Central, which is in arrears for a long period, has been paid regularly. The price of these bonds has firmed up recently on reports of a likely purchase of the property by the C.P.R.

Of the preferred stock, there is outstanding $1,000,000 all of which is owned by Lake Superior Corporation, or the common stock, there is $32,000,000 of which Lake Superior owns about one-half, with holdings of the preferred stock and common giving it control. Balance of the common stock is held mostly in England.

WHITNEY LETTER

(By Branson, Brown & Co. Limited)

RIGHT ON UP

"This is the week in which you were advised the market would start that phase of its advance which would be looked upon as definite and conclusive evidence that what has been witnessed in the past was accumulation, and in which the advance to be recorded would be sufficiently radical to be reminiscent of last year's market. Yesterday's session, which completely reversed the usual Monday tendency toward reaction, which has characterized the market sessions of this year, confirms the opinion expressed here and will lead to-day to another sharp upward revision in prices.

"The irregularity in the market, which is largely confined to the utility group and electrical equipment stocks, represents nothing more than a temporary resting spell in these groups, which was the market's leader of a week to ten days ago. A few days more and these groups will join the current advance.

"Increase in the steel tonnage, which creates a distinct surplus, confirms the opinion that the stock market is right in advancing to discount business improvement. There will be more of these surpluses when the market is considerably higher. Get long of the market before too many evidences are provided that the prophets of gloom have overdone things.

COMMENT

"National Cash Register, due to technical conditions which have been removed, has lagged behind its group, which has been establishing new tops. With the removal of these technical conditions, Cash Register will make up for lost time, so the recommendation to buy it now while it remains below 80 should prove profitable, and rather quickly.

"You have a quick ten to fifteen points profit in Vanadium Steel, which makes it advisable to cash the trading profit within the range of 85 to 90.

"Union Carbide, Air Reduction and Du Pont are all at new tops. They are three of the issues into which you were advised speculation would turn this week. All three are still amply covered, and all three are recommended for purchase again now.

"Radio is again at a new top, and going higher, as are the motion picture stocks, in which group I believe famous players hold perhaps the best immediate possibilities.

"Continue the purchase of General Electric and Montgomery Ward during their temporary resting spells, as they will be particularly hard to buy when they get under way again.

"Continue the purchase of American Can, which will come into prominence before the end of the week, while these purchases can be effected with the stock at the present level.

"As indicated yesterday, the entire chemical group points sharply upward. To the three chemical issues mentioned above, I believe you can add a moderate amount of National Distillers."

ALGOMA EASTERN ISSUES

Toronto, March 11.—The Algoma Eastern Railway Company, which is being acquired by the C.P.R. from the Lake Superior Corporation, has three different securities outstanding: bond, preferred stock and common stock. According to the last report, received here by Miller, Court & Co., the amount of bonds outstanding, first mortgage five per cent issue, was $2,226,500. The interest on these bonds, unlike that of Algoma Central, which is in arrears for a long period, has been paid regularly. The price of these bonds has firmed up recently on reports of a likely purchase of the property by the C.P.R.

Of the preferred stock, there is outstanding $1,000,000 all of which is owned by Lake Superior Corporation, or the common stock, there is $32,000,000 of which Lake Superior owns about one-half, with holdings of the preferred stock and common giving it control. Balance of the common stock is held mostly in England.

HOW PRESENT SLUMP DIFFERS FROM 1927

New York, March 11.—Present conditions are frequently compared to conditions existing in the recession which took place in the winter of 1927, says the Brookings Institution, and it is assumed that the present sharp recovery will be followed by a continued advance throughout the year somewhat similar to that which took place during 1927.

"Such comparison overlooks certain essential differences in the situation now obtaining as compared to the one referred to. In the first place, we are not caught up with previously existing building shortages.

"In the next biggest item, automobile production, the situation is also different. We entered 1927 with a large accumulation of new and second-hand cars very much as in the present year. The Ford shut-down during 1927, however, left us at the end of that year with a large deferred demand for cars so that we went into 1928 in a very strong position in this respect.

"Other differences could be sighted, among them, the very important one, namely, the very considerable declines in the prices of almost all raw materials, and a less easy money situation."

POWER CORPORATION KILOWATTAGE GAINS

Montreal, March 11.—An increase of 3,399,596 kilowatt hours of electricity for the month of January over the preceding month of December, is shown in the output figures of companies in which Power Corporation is interested.

The total for the month was 179,630,454 k.w.h., and included in this report are substantial increases for Southern Canada Power, Canada Northern Power and Dominion Power and Transmission Company.

Kilowatt hour output for January is as follows:

Canada Northern 14,592,000

Canada Northern 30,903,400

Dominion Power 21,873,200

East Kootenay 7,830,200

North-West Power 36,628,000

Montreal Island 8,190,000

OCEAN HIGHWAY AND GRANT FOR VICTORIA ADVOCATED BY BEATTY

Wales and this year we are to have four new large ships, added to the fleet. I shall not endeavor to compute the amount of money left here by these tourists. Suffice it to say that it is one of our biggest businesses to-day and, due to the magnificent climate and the natural beauties of the island, the southern portion of the island, the southern end of Vancouver Island is worthy of more roads.

GOOD BUSINESS

"It is only good business to build more roads on the island. It looked local New Politics, and the Minister McBride Government built the Malahat Drive; we know different to-day. During the Liberal regime, the southern end of Vancouver Island suffered badly at the hands of the Public Works Department. We were in opposition then and were severely penalized. I am delighted to see that the Minister of Public Works is widening and straightening the Malahat Drive and that his department has done so much work on the approach to the Ocean Highway. It is true that the construction of the new road, comparatively little has been done—only about four and a half miles, I believe, but I hope that during the coming year this road will be pushed on to Port Renfrew.

"The majority of these thousands of tourists cars would take that drive and we would keep them in British Columbia at least one or two days longer and they would leave with us their good money in return for a look at something which they could not take away.

"I believe that such a road would be revenue producing in itself as a toll road. We seem to be averse to toll roads in British Columbia; we seem to want to have everything free; such is a good theory, but everything is not free. These things may be free to a few, but they are very costly to others.

"My opinion is the Minister of Public Works would be well advised to immediately complete the Ocean Highway from Jordan River to Port Renfrew. No tourist would ever turn back on account of the small toll charge, and in the end, the tourists will have built this road for us."

On the subject of a grant for the capital city, Mr. Beatty said: "Victoria is a wonderful asset to the Province. However, the Provincial Government, as you know, pays no taxes to the city for property held here. On a conservative calculation such a grant would amount to about $60,000 a year. The Federal Government is adopting a worthy attitude towards the City of Ottawa; making a large annual grant towards the beautification of that city. The Provincial Government would be well advised to make a similar grant towards the beautification of Victoria. Such grant need not be large, and it need not go into the general revenue of the city. It could be placed in the hands of an independent non-political and non-salary-drawing commission. It would be quite easy to get, say, three of our leading citizens to administer such a fund effectively.

"I know my colleagues, the other Victoria members who set in former parliaments, have asked for this consideration, and time and time again, we were in the Opposition then, consequently received little or nothing from the last government.

"I submit that this matter is long over-due and I am sure that the members of the Legislature will agree that Victoria is entitled to such consideration."

NEW BANK MERGER WAVE SEEN LIKELY

New York, March 11.—It is widely predicted in Wall Street, according to the New York Times, that should the merger of Chase National Bank and Equitable Trust take place, it would touch off a series of banking consolidations rivaling those of last year.

Is It More Important to Love or Be Loved in Marriage?—Shall This Young Man Sacrifice His Own Life to Support His Brothers and Sisters?

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—How much and what kind of love is it necessary to have to marry on? I am in love—have been for a long time and always will be—with a boy who can never marry me and whom I will probably never see again. A fine chap who would make an excellent husband wants to marry me. Would the kind of affection I could give him satisfy him and would I be happier with him than alone? Which is better when both are not fully possible—to love or be loved in marriage?

Answer—In marriage it is always more blessed to give than to receive, for in some strange way it is more necessary for our happiness that we should love than it is that we should be loved. And especially is this true of women.

As long as a woman loves a man life is one prolonged thrill to her. She is keyed up, alive, alert, always on her tiptoes trying to please him. She keeps young and vital. She makes the most of her looks and is always well dressed and well groomed and attractive. She has the charm that comes of consciously exercising her powers of fascination. If she is married and loves her husband she strives to make her home the pleasantest spot in the world.

And this is all true, whether the man returns her affection or not. If she loves him she has an objective in trying to win him, or to hold him, that puts her into existence for her. But if she does not care for the man his love simply bores her to death. His devotion rouses no gratitude in her breast. It merely makes her tired. For there is, in reality, nothing else so wearisome as to be loved by those whom we do not love. Nothing that gets on our nerves like kisses to which we turn our cheeks, like having to give duty affection, like having to be with those who always want to be with us, and who hang upon us, and on whose society we are fed to repulsion.

When a woman slumps after marriage, when she gets slovenly and careless and doesn't bother to dress up or keep her house tidy, it is because she has not only lost her interest in her husband, but in life itself. When a wife is unhappy and discontented it is not so often because her husband doesn't love her as because she doesn't love him, and everything is cinders, ashes and dust because she has no one upon whom to expend her emotions and no one whom she is trying to please.

It does not matter so much whether a man is good to his wife as whether he looks good to her. That is why we have the strange spectacle of so many dull, listless-looking women with fine homes and parts frocks and linens and husbands who are devoted to her, and of other women who are taking in boarders and wearing shabby clothes, and trying to keep tabs on husbands who are philanthropists, yet who are getting more kick out of marriage than the women who have ever-loving husbands. It is because it is always more eternally important to a woman to love, than to be loved.

Also, if it is dangerous for a woman to marry a man for whom she has merely a lukewarm affection, it is doubly perilous for her to do so when there is some other man in the background of her life for whom she really cares. For marriage is not an extinguisher of old love, as some women are foolish enough to suppose it to be. It does not help her to forget as she thinks it will. On the contrary it revives all of the old romance, it deepens the old craving because it puts the old sweetheart into the forbidden fruit class. And women's mouths eternally water for that, even as Mother Eve's did.

The one and only perfect husband in the world is the man we didn't marry, and any actual husband runs a bad second to the paragon his wife failed to get. Her imagination clothes him with every charm and grace, and covers up every defect, so that the more she thinks about him, the more she believes herself in love with him, and the more dissatisfied she is with the just ordinary human husband she has.

It takes a lot of love to marry on because it is only love that can take the sting out of the inevitable sacrifices marriage requires and gild the chain that binds two persons together. It is only love that can make men and women endure each other's faults and even love them. And if this love can be romantic love all the better. That is, indeed, a kiss from the Fairy Godmother.

But while we may crave cake, if we cannot get it we can subsist on bread and butter, and many a woman does get along very comfortably on just a feeling of respect and gratitude and appreciation for the man she marries. She gives him friendship instead of love, but that can be a very comforting thing to both of them.

DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR MISS DIX—I had the burden of a family laid upon me almost in my childhood and ever since I was a young boy I have had to support my mother and the other children. I did well in school and obtained a few unusual honors, but had to quit early in order to make money for the family. Naturally I desire what every young man does, to achieve my own ambitions, to marry and have a home of my own, but my desires are continually blocked by my present responsibilities. What can I do?

THE FELLOW.

Answer—When the Recording Angel writes down the list of the unending heroes of the world, "those who have known the cross without the crown of glory," I am sure that the names that will lead all the rest are those of the boys and girls who have been martyrs to their families.

How often we see the tragedy happen! A mother dies, or is sickly, and the oldest girl is taken from school and made a slave for the balance of the family. Father dies, or is a drunkard, or is just incompetent, and there is a household of hungry mouths to feed, and the older boy must forego an education and start to work at whatever job he can find to feed and clothe his parents and his little brothers and sisters.

How many old maids we know who have had to put all thoughts of love and marriage out of their lives because they had to stay at home and help support the family. How many young men we have known who, ever since they were lads in their teens, have had to toil for others and to give up all of their hopes and plans and desires and ambitions that their younger brothers and sisters might have a better opportunity in life than they had.

It is a costly sacrifice that these young people lay upon the family altar, and it is nearly always one that is not appreciated. For parents have a way of taking all that their children do for them as no more than their due, and the younger brothers and sisters accept Mary and John's support as much as a matter of course as they would if father and mother were paying the bills. They think it just a personal peculiarity that old John never went to college and is satisfied at being a mechanic, or that Mary works all day in an office and then stays at home and takes care of mother in the evenings, and never thinks of having any pleasure herself.

Perhaps there is no way of preventing shiftless parents from dumping their burden down on the weak shoulders of their children, but in many cases it could be lightened by the victims refusing to bear the whole load and dividing it out among the others.

I have known, for instance, older sisters who have foregone marriage in order to put brothers through college. I have known men who kept the girls to whom they were engaged waiting for years while they supported husky, able-bodied sisters in idleness, and I have thought how much better it would have been for all concerned if every one of the children had been made to go to work. Often it would also be better if a lazy grafter of a father had been made to go to work, too, and the poor martyr boy or girl saved at least a little of their torture.

For there is no profit in being the family goat.

DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR MISS DIX—I am a widow with a little girl of four. For the last year I have been going with a man who has been just wonderful to me and the baby, but he has never once mentioned marriage. Do you think he shies at marrying because he has the feeling that it isn't necessary? I love him and can't bear the thought of giving him up, yet I must start to think of the baby's future, and if he isn't willing to marry, must meet some one else. Under the circumstances what would you advise me to do?

PUZZLED WIDOW.

Answer—As you seem to look upon marriage purely as a meal ticket for yourself and your baby, I should certainly advise you to keep an eye out for a more likely prospect. Evidently this man's attentions are without intentions and you are wasting your time trying to land him.

But wake up, sister. Face the fact that not many men want to marry women with children, and this being the case, why not go to work and fit yourself to support yourself and your child honestly and honorably instead of trying to graft your living off some man?
